NO NEW LIGHT HERE ON THE SUICIDE CASE

A. S. WALDEN DID NOT HAVE ANY RELATIVES

BODY BEING HELD

If Medical College Does Not Take The Corpse It Will Be Buried Here Tomorrow

It had been thought that there might be some new developments yesterday in the suicide case but Chroner Hardin said last night that he had been able to discover no new evidence. No one could be found in Greenville bearing relationship to the dead man and telegrams to Augusta, Ga., revealed the fact that he had no relatives there so far as could be ascertained.

The theory has been advanced that the name A. S. Walden might possibly have been assumed name but little credence is placed in this idea. The handwriting on the letter found in the dead man's pockets corresponded with that to be found in the back of the bank book and this seems to indicate that there was no deception practiced in the matter of names.

From Augusta came the story that an Augusta bank had received a check a few days ago from Greenville, drawn on the Augusta institution and bearing the signature of A. S. Walden, but there was no account with such a person at the Augusta bank and the check was returned to Greenville. This goes to bear out the theory advanced by The Intelligencer yesterday that the man had been discharged from his position and penniless and without friends he was forced into the rash deed.

It was intended Friday night that the undertakers here telegraph the medical college at Atlanta that they might have the body but instead of this a letter was written, and so a delay will necessarily ensue. It is expected that an answer will be received tonight or in the morning from the medical college, stating whether or not that institution is willing to pay the expenses incurred in connection with preparing the body here and shipping it to Atlanta. If the college will not bear this expense the body will be buried tomorrow in the potter's field.

So far as is now known there was no other single detail discovered yesterday. Much speculation was heard as to why the man came here for the purpose of killing himself, but no explanation could be furnished. Some thought that he possibly lived here in years gone by and wanted to see familiar scenes before he died, while others are of the opinion that he came to Anderson for the purpose of conferring with some one before he took his life.

VETERANS FUND IS AVAILABLE

Anderson Will Get $1,500 From the State For Entertainment of Old Soldiers

For years it has been the custom for the general assembly of South Carolina to include in the appropriation bill the sum of $1,500 to go to the town entertaining the Confederate reunion. Of course this sum is not sufficient to defray the expenses of the reunion but is merely some financial assistance in bearing the heavy burden incurred by the annual gathering.

This year there seemed to be some doubt about whether or not the fund had been included in the appropriation bill. During the last days of the general assembly there was so much uncertainty about the various items that were included that it was thought best to make an investigation. For A. Whaley, secretary of the chamber of commerce, wrote to Columbia for information on this subject and yesterday he received a letter informing him that the sum had been included in the bill and would be available for use in connection with the reunion here.

B. M. I. CADETS VISIT BELTON

Will Spend a Few Minutes in the Tower City Monday—Coming Back To Anderson

Belton, April 18.—The announcement in The Intelligencer that the cadets of the Bailey Military Institute of Greenwood would take a trip through this section was received here with interest. Mayor Ross Mitchell got busy at once and Saturday afternoon he concluded arrangements with Col. Bailey for the cadet corps to stop in Belton for 20 minutes.

The train will arrive here at 10:45 and as stated will remain here 20 minutes. The high school of the city will turn out as an escort to meet the visitors and the whole city is invited to come and give the cadets a welcome. Prof. J. B. Watkins, superintendent of the schools will deliver the address of welcome.

The cadets will go on to Paris Mountain, after spending a day in Greenville, and as has been stated in The Intelligencer, Col. Bailey has announced that on the return trip he will spend two days in camp at Anderson.

MATERIAL FOR "WHITE WAY" NOW ARRIVING

LARGE SHIPMENT OF WIRE IS ALREADY HERE

POSTS STARTED

Wire Arrived Yesterday and Posts Shipped Tomorrow—Work Begins Within Week

With the wire for the "great white way" already in the city and the posts shipped tomorrow, Anderson people will soon have the pleasure of seeing the city transformed into one of the best-lighted towns in South Carolina. The Southern Public Utilities Company yesterday received the full shipment of wire for the undertaking, this being 8,900 pounds, which makes a rope of wire 9000 feet long. The wire is strungly constructed, having a number of small wires in the center, these covered by insulation and next comes a sheath of lead. The whole is encased in a tube of ribbon steel. The wire differs from any in use at present in Anderson.

One car of the white way posts will be shipped from Anniston, Ala., tomorrow morning, this shipment containing half the shipment, or in other words 58 of the posts. The second car will be started from the factory in Alabama eight days from tomorrow and this will include the remainder of the shipment, making 116 posts all told.

For several days the local company has been getting the material ready for beginning the work. They now have an air compressor and tank with drill for the purpose of drilling places for the posts in the cement sidewalks and forms made of wood have been constructed for use on those portions of the streets where there is no cement sidewalks.

The work of installing the new system will be entirely in charge of the local force of the Southern Public Utilities Company. The superintendent of the work told a reporter for The Intelligencer yesterday that he planned to have the work underway by next Monday and that the weather will be good for the next month and if this is the case the work will be completed by May 1. The superintendent said that he was sure of being able to complete the undertaking before the State Re-union of Confederate veterans.

Anderson people will be genuinely glad when this work starts and almost the entire population of the city believes that city council did a wise action in accepting the white way proposition for Anderson.

With the new lights stretching for several blocks on Main street and on several of the intersecting streets, Anderson will look like a different town by night.

SALESMAN ENDS LIFE

W. H. Fudge Leaps from Hotel Window in Atlanta

Atlanta, April 18.—W. H. Fudge, a traveling salesman, committed suicide here today by leaping from the fourth story of a hotel where he was confined with self-inflicted pen knife wounds. His previous attempt to end his life was made in the crowded terminal station here, Wednesday morning, when he stabbed himself near the heart.

Picture Business Changed Hands.

Belton, April 18.—W. E. Stansell proprietor of the Stansell Studio, sold out today to W. Harvey H. Jones, of Greenwood, and the business will be run in the future in the name of Hughes Photo Company. Mr. Hughes came to Belton highly recommended as a first-class photographer and business man, and we welcome him and his family as residents to our town.

Mr. Stansell, the retiring owner is a photographer of ability and is very popular in Belton and it is hoped by his many friends here that he will remain here.

Crippled with Rheumatism

Another Bad Case Cured

"My wife was crippled and unable to walk as the result of rheumatism. She fell off in weight from 150 to 115 pounds. Doctors and various remedies failing to help her, we lost all hope of her recovery. Dr. Jones' Liniment, having been highly recommended, we tried it as a last resource. Nine bottles entirely cured her."

A VIGOROUS PLEA FOR COMPULSORY EDUCATION

Prof. Wm. H. Hand Issued Bulletin Setting Forth Strong Reasons

A vigorous plea for compulsory school attendance laws in the Southern states is made by William H. Hand, state high school inspector for South Carolina, in a bulletin just issued by the United States bureau of education. After pointing out that the six states, still without compulsory laws—South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Texas, and the four states with compulsory laws that apply only partially—Maryland, Virginia, Arkansas and Louisiana—are all Southern states. Hand presents statistics showing that although illiteracy has been reduced rapidly in these states within the last two decades, they still have the highest percentage of illiteracy among the white population.

The opponents of compulsory education insist that the people will send their children to school without being obliged to do so, if only they are shown their duty and their obligation to the children. These opponents declare that the younger generations of white children are already in school and neither contention is true. In 1910 the 12 southern states had 783,699 native white children between the ages of 6 and 14 not in school.

Who are these illiterate white children, and why are they not in school? Some of them are the sons and daughters of parents themselves ignorant, and unable to appreciate or to understand what an education means to their children and to their state. Some are the children of sordid moth-ers and fathers who are more than willing to make wage earners and bread winners of their untalented offspring at the expense of their future manhood and womanhood. Many are at work on the farms, sacrificed to the monotonous rounds of planting corn, cultivating crops, harvesting crops, and again planting crops. Some are at work in the stores or shops or are engaged as messenger boys, all at a small wage. Many are employed in the nerve-dulling and blood sapping environment of the mills, receiving good wages as children in exchange for the vigor of manhood and training of mind as men and women; while thousands of others are roaming the streets and country lanes, the training grounds for idlers, vagrants and enemies of the law, order and decency.

When the state has provided school for all its children, it has performed only a portion of its duty. If a universal school tax is justifiable on the ground that popular education is not a necessity, compulsory attendance by the state is also justifiable. The state has no right to levy and collect taxes for a specific purpose to be defeated at the hands of indigent or selfish parents.

Objection is often made that compulsory education would work hardships in the homes of the poor. Is it not a fact that the child of the poor home is the very one who needs most the aid of the state to bring the complexities of modern life and the insistent demands of citizenship to birth or wealth. The poor child is the very one whom the state ought to help, because he himself is helpless.

The argument against compulsory attendance on account of the negro has been worn threadbare; surely the time has come to drop it. Some phases of it are pathetic. Is it wise or expedient to permit thousands of white boys to grow up in ignorance, lest in forcing them into school the aspirations of the negro child should be awakened? Shall the white man remain ignorant in order to encourage or compel the negro to remain ignorant? Is it better for both white and black to remain ignorant than to become intelligent?

"I yield to no one in the pride over what has been accomplished educationally in the past 40 years. We have planned better schools, inspired the taxpayers to vote taxes for schools and encouraged the people to build model schools, to lengthen their school terms, to employ better teachers, and to pay them better salaries, and to make their schools their pride. But what has been accomplished in the way of a substantial decrease in illiteracy of the citizenship? Of what value are all our school taxes, our elegant school houses, our improved schools to the thousands of boys and girls who never enter the doors of a schoolhouse?"

PRESIDENT'S PLANS

Upset and He Will Not Get His Needed Rest at the Springs

Washington, April 17.—At the cabinet meeting the newest situation was only briefly discussed. That the incident was not considered closed was indicated, however, by the change in plans which both the President and Secretary Bryan made. The president will not go to White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., until tomorrow night, said Secretary Bryan will not go to Florida until the whole question is adjusted.

A DEAL IN DIRT MADE YESTERDAY

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If your back is aching or Bladder bothers you, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts, which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water; you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the urine, so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which every one should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and back ache.—Evans' Pharmacy, Agts.

Cheshire is now conducting the livery stable located on this property. The new owner of the property said last night that he bought it for the simple reason that the portion of town in which his investment is located is growing now and is bound to grow more. He pointed to the railroad terminals and the Kress buildings as two important items to be considered and said that he expected values to increase right along in that section.

KILLED HIS CHAUFFEUR

Crime Alleged Against Son of a Wealthy Manufacturer.

Albany, N. Y., April 17.—Malcolm Clifford, Jr., 19 years old son of a wealthy manufacturer of Hudson, N. Y., tonight is in jail here charged with murder of Frank J. Clute, a chauffeur. Clute was shot to death April 1, 1913 while driving for an unidentified man here.

Cough Medicine for Children.

Too much care cannot be used in selecting a cough medicine for children. It should be pleasant to take, contain no harmful substance and be more effective. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets these requirements and is a favorite with mothers of young children everywhere. For sale by Evans' Pharmacy.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MAKING RECORD

St. John's Methodist Sunday School Had 711 Present Last Sunday Morning

Teachers and pupils of St. John's Methodist Sunday school have been working throughout all of last week to make a record breaker in point of attendance with their church. They set a high water mark last Sunday when there were actually 711 students present at the Sunday school services and the earnest workers said yesterday that they were going to increase even this large number today. It is hoped that they will have 800 people in the Sunday school room this morning when the superintendent opens the exercises. The class taught by Mr. R. S. Ligon is pulling hard for attendance. The record for last Sunday was remarkable and if that is surpassed today St. John's will probably rank all other churches in the city in point of attendance.

MRS. L. W. WALTER DEAD

A number of her friends in this city will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. L. W. Walter of Birmingham, Ala., which occurred on Tuesday, April 8, 1914. Mrs. Walter was Miss Cora Kingsmore and a first cousin of Mr. L. I. Norrory of this city. She leaves two sons, Claridge Walter of Birmingham, Ala., and Lamar Walter of Columbia, S. C.

Mrs. Walter had been in bad health several months, having some throat affection. Her death occurred in an infirmary in Birmingham where she had been sometime for treatment and had undergone a very serious operation.

SUFFRAGETTES USE TORCH

Belfast Ten Rooms Conflagration Charged To Them.

Belfast, Ireland, April 18.—The Belfast Corporation's tea room in Bellevue Gardens were destroyed by fire today. The damage was very extensive. The police say the fire was the work of a suffragette arson squad.

The four-mile relay team of Oxford University will not lack for opposition at the Pennsylvania relay carnival. Ten or twelve American college teams will be on hand to do battle, among which will be representatives from Cornell, Harvard, Princeton, Michigan, Dartmouth and Pennsylvania.

Why we want Small Accounts

Do you realize that a hundred small accounts make a bank stronger than a dozen large ones even if they aggregate the same total of deposits?

That's why we are constantly seeking new customers. We want as wide a circle of friends and customers as possible.

Of course, large accounts are welcome, too, for it is our purpose to serve ALL people.

But we want men and women of limited means to know that this bank is willing to accept their deposits and give them the advantage of our advice and every facility of the institution.

If you are not a bank depositor at all come in and get acquainted with us. We will be glad to talk things over with you.
